Has this ever happened to you?

You are hiking, riding, or running on a trail and you start to wonder about the vegetation all around you.

What is it? Where did it come from? How has
it survived in this environment?

California sagebrush (Artemisia californica)

Laurel sumac (Malosma laurina)

Join us for a hike through the Park as we try to answer these questions and more.

The hike will take place on moderately steep trails (Mummy Rock Trail, Vineyard Trail).

There will be a number of stops to identify plants and discuss the impacts of man, fire,
and climate on the native plant communities.
